

A stylized drawing of a person's torso and limbs, rendered in blue and pink. The figure is shown from the waist up, with the head tilted back. The drawing uses thick, expressive lines and washes of color. The background is white.

44AD artspace presents

WHAT DO I LOOK LIKE?

an exhibition by
Saffron Murray-Browne

EXHIBITION CATALOGUE

Photo of the Artist (2021) £1800

Self Portrait in Blue Screen of Death (2021) £280

Memento Mori (2020) £340

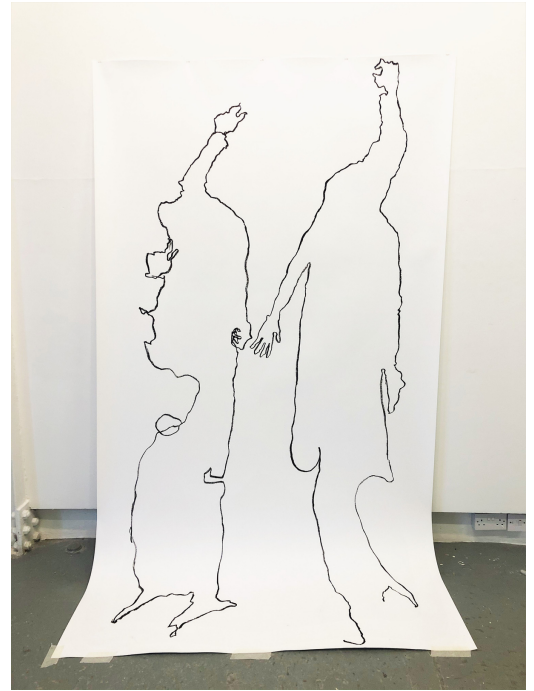

Interruption (2020) £1300

The Artist in Her Studio (2021)
£490

Angus in His Favourite Shirt (2021) £550

Movement on Paper (2020)
£650

Girl with Blue Sleeve
(2019) £570

Ink and oil drawings (various) between £40-£100, please enquire

Me and Modigliani
(2019) £380

Sterner (2020) £540

Bacchanal (2021) £660

Saffron Murray-Browne

Saffron Murray-Browne is a contemporary artist based in the South West. Her debut solo-show What Do I Look Like? explores the boundaries of what a self-portrait can be, and how our influences determine who we are. Drawing on art history, her surroundings, and herself, Murray-Browne's collection of self-portraits reveal both her outward appearance, and her inner train of thought.

For sales, business enquiries, or anything else,
contact: saffronmurraybrowne@gmail.com

@saffronmurraybrowne

www.saffronmurraybrowne.com